A SEA OF CHANGE

BY DONNA BUNCE

THE DRAW Oceana's Fourth Annual SeaChange party, held at a private coastal estate in Laguna Beach, drew 380 guests to raise funds for the international ocean conservation group.

SPECIAL GUESTS Academy Award-nominated actors Diane Lane and Josh Brolin were joined by other actors supportive of conservation causes, including Ted Danson, Ed Begley, Jr., Jeff Goldblum, Aimee Teegarden, Angela Kinsey, O'riankka Kilcher, Oscar Nunez, and Austin Stowell.

THE YOUNG CONSERVATIONIST Eight-year-old Wyatt Workman, who has made a movie and created art pieces to spread the word about ocean pollution, was at the party autographing his book, Save the Sea from the Trash Monster.

THE TREASURE Guests could bid on a plethora of fabulous silent auction items, as well as over-the-top live auction opportunities, including a "CSI" walk-on role escorted by Ted Danson and a one-week yachting vacation valued at $125,000 on the 134-foot Blind Date, courtesy of Burgess and Oceana.

QUOTE OF THE NIGHT "We have to go that extra mile for our 'mother ocean,'" said Lane.

THE HAUL More than $900,000 in net proceeds were generated for the nonprofit.

■ PROTECT THE OCEANS :: Join more than 500,000 online Oceana supporters, who are crucial to its grassroots lobbying efforts.
